HHS Hosts Fall Food Expos during Ontario Agricultural Week

Halton Healthcare Services (HHS) is celebrating Ontario Agricultural Week, designated from October 6 to 12, 2014, by hosting Fall Food Expos at each of its three hospitals.

“Our first local food expo held in June of this year was a huge success. We had over 500 people attend. In fact, it was such a success, that HHS was selected as the winner of the Ontario Greenhouse Vegetable Growers’ (OGVG) First Local Food Week Competition for its food expo and the related promotional activities,” explains Marianne Katusin, HHS Manager, Operational Readiness - Food Services.

“We are very excited to be hosting food expos at each of our hospitals this Fall, and hope they will be just as popular,” continues Ms. Katusin. “We invite everyone from all our HHS communities, as well as our staff, physicians and volunteers to come out, taste samples and purchase vegetables or baking and other treats.”

In January, 2014 HHS was awarded funding from the Ontario Greenbelt Fund for an innovative project called Good For You, Locally Grown aimed at getting more local food into hospital kitchens.

“The Greenbelt Fund provides us with the opportunity to build local networks, support Ontario producers and host food expos, as we develop a local food policy for HHS, and help lead the way for other healthcare facilities in Ontario,” said Ms. Katusin.

“Many of our partners such as the Greenbelt Fund, Gordon Food Service and Signature Culinary Solutions as well as our local food growers from across Halton including Andrews Scenic Acres, Springridge Farm and Stonehaven Farm will be at these expos. We have some new manufacturers and growers coming out as well,” notes Ms. Katusin. “What a great week to learn about the local food chain in Ontario and see how we are incorporating local foods into our hospital menus. Join us!”
