

Thursday, September 21, 2017

MEDIA ALERT

Attention: News/Community/Health Editors

Educating the public about Breast Reconstruction during Breast Cancer Awareness Month

WHAT: The Mississauga Halton Central West Regional Cancer Program, in partnership with Halton Healthcare and the Canadian Cancer Society, is hosting Breast Reconstruction Awareness (BRA) Day at Oakville Trafalgar Memorial Hospital. BRA Day is a free event that invites women with breast cancer to learn about breast reconstruction options and to connect with women who have been through it. There will also be an opportunity for a Q&A with leading breast reconstruction experts in the region.

WHEN: Wednesday, October 4, 2017
5 p.m. – 9 p.m.

WHERE: Halton Healthcare, Oakville Trafalgar Memorial Hospital
John Oliver Auditorium
3001 Hospital Gate, Oakville ON

WHO: Women with breast cancer considering breast reconstruction surgery or women post-breast reconstruction surgery
Oncologists
Surgeons
Primary Care Providers

REGISTER: www.bra-day.com and select the Oakville location

-30-

Media Contact:

Emma Murphy, Senior Communications Consultant
Halton Healthcare
905-845-2571 ext. 4587
emmurphy@haltonhealthcare.com

Debbie Silva, Communications Advisor
Mississauga Halton Central West Regional Cancer Program
905-813-1100 ext. 3812
debbie.silva@thp.ca